

3. Gasthof zum Hirschen: Switzerland

Bells, whistles, fanfare and fireworks aren't what make up romantic hotels in Europe: it's understated beauty that gives a residence that something special. Gasthof zum Hirschen (<https://www.historichotelssofeurope.com/property-details.html/gasthof-zum-hirschen>) doesn't try hard to be lovely – it's etched deep into the bones of the building, first built in 1648. Simple rooms, classical dishes and straight-up natural beauty: this kind of charm cannot be replicated by even the flashiest hotel chains.

4. Villa Sjötorp: Sweden

Couples craving romantic hotels in Europe will find heaven in Villa Sjötorp (<https://www.historichotelssofeurope.com/property-details.html/villa-sjotorp>). Enter your Swedish stay-by-the-sea and fall in love with one of 10 charming, individually decorated rooms. It'll be difficult to leave, but other delightful things to do include dining alfresco overlooking the waves or feeling like kids again on the swing in the middle of the garden.